PROSECUTION SUFFERS A SETBACK IN BEATTIE CASE COUSIN'S VERACITY IS QUESTIONED

Millstone "Around Its Neck"
Does Not Discourage This Tree

HAVING a millstone around one's neck is a dangerous thing, according to Holy Writ, especially if one is to be cast into the sea. But the tree shown in the above picture has thrived in spite of such a handicap. Many years ago a huge millstone that had been used in turning wheat into flour at Sheldon's mill at South Dover, N. Y., was discarded. The new roller process made the old fashioned method obsolete, and the heavy millstone was useless and was thrown away. It lay on the ground beside the road for many years, and then a seed under the stone sprouted, and a slender plant poked its head through the hole in the center of the stone. It continued to grow until it filled the hole and gradually lifted the heavy stone from the ground. It continued to grow and to raise the stone until it now appears as shown in the picture. The stone is used as a seat by wayfarers who are tired. It is a comfortable seat, too, and is different from anything seen anywhere else in the world.

Oscar Underwood's Stand Attacked by Nebraskan

Taft Urges Doubling Salaries

Boston, Sept. 1.—President Taft in his speech at the thirty-fourth annual convention of the American Bar association came out squarely in favor of doubling the salaries of justices of the United States supreme court. He declared that the justices should get $25,000 a year, so that they could live decently without having to lecture to the law students and do other work outside of their offices. At present the chief justice of the United States supreme court gets $13,000, while his associates draw $12,000 a year.

Able, but Not Willing.
"Come, now," persisted the lawyer, "are you not able to say of your own knowledge that the defendant was in the room at the time and objected to the whole proceeding?"
"Yes, sir," savagely replied the witness. "I am able to say it, I reckon, but I'd be telling the biggest lie you ever heard of if I did."

Nebraskan Expresses Lack of Confidence in Chairman.

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 1.—William J. Bryan in his Commoner today makes the assertion that he has it upon the information of a member of the house of representatives, who was present at the caucus, that Chairman Underwood opposed resolutions by both Sisson and Clark, requiring the ways and means committee to go ahead with revisions of the steel and iron schedule. The differences, he says, between himself and Underwood are not as to facts, but conclusions. He adds:

"Why did Mr. Underwood oppose the preparation of an iron and steel schedule at this session or until after the president acted? The fact is that he asked the committee to relieve him of embarrassment by reporting a bill in the beginning, but is not conclusive as to his reasons for favoring delay at the close of the session. Those who have confidence in Mr. Underwood may accept his reasons at their face value, but Mr. Bryan does not have confidence in him and does not accept his reasons."

"Mr. Bryan believes him tainted with protection and regards his selection as chairman of the committee as unfortunate. The committee will have more work to do next winter. Mr. Bryan will be pleased if Mr. Underwood's conduct next winter proves to be a reflection on the principle

The cruise began today, and the president expects to return to Beverly on Monday. The Mayflower will sail to Isleboro, Me., where Mrs. Thomas McK. Laughlin of Pittsburg, a sister of Mrs. Taft, has a summer place. Miss Helen Taft is already at Isleboro. Most of the time will be passed in Mrs. Laughlin's home.

Police Charged The Mob

Visit of a Candidate For Governor Starts Trouble.

Guanajuato, Mexico, Sept. 1.—As a result of political rioting here, there is one woman dead and several badly wounded. The rioting broke out shortly after the arrival of the train which brought Villaseñor, candidate for the governorship. Trouble started near the new market and several of the mounted rioters managed to get as far as the San Pedro barracks before their ammunition gave out. Then they were captured. The police fired many volleys into the mob and 10 people were arrested. All the soldiers, rurales and mounted police were called out and the streets were cleared. The band concert and all demonstrations were suspended, and all public places are under an extra heavy guard.

MUST NOW BACK OUT OR DECLARE A WAR

American Association's Demands
Are Bluntly Refused.

BASEBALL STRIFE MAY FOLLOW

National Commission Not Only Rejects the Association's Proposals, but Hands the Minor Organization a Jolt — President Chivington to Call a Meeting of the A. A. Magistrates to Discuss the Situation—Invasion Talk Heard on Both Sides.

Cincinnati, Sept. 1.—Demands of the American association were flatly refused by the national baseball commission, which is in session here. The commission was unanimous in its conclusion that it is without authority to act on the petition for the reason that concessions applied for can be granted only by amending the national agreement, which requires the affirmative vote of both the National and American leagues.

Then the commission gave the American association a jolt when it declared that "practically from the commencement of its connection with the national association, the American association has been assertive to the point of aggressiveness in its demands upon the major and minor leagues for special legislation in its behalf."

The commission requires the American association to notify its chairman by Sept. 10 whether it will continue to operate under the national agreement.

President Chivington in a lengthy statement to the public defends the position taken by the American association, but failed to state whether it would secede from the national agreement or not. He says he will call a meeting of his league to consider the ultimatum of the national commission.

If war is declared the commission will put clubs in the American association cities, and the long expected invasion of Cincinnati, Chicago, Pittsburg and Cleveland by the American association may follow the commission's action.

The association demanded: Five thousand dollars for every player drafted by the major leagues; the drafting to be done on July 1; a higher classification than any other minor league, except the Eastern league; the right to purchase players under the same conditions as the major leagues; only one player to be drafted from a club in a season; the right to take all cases or appeals to the national commission without interference by the national association.

Newark, O., Sept. 1.—Edward Grady, a machinist, a block and a half distant from the accident, was fatally injured when a peanut roaster operated by a Greek firm exploded and shot its cylinder head over the tops of buildings. The cylinder head struck Grady and spit his head open. Gus Spiliopoulos, who was running the peanut stand, was hurled into the street, scalded and fatally injured. The roaster was completely wrecked and landed in the street, battered and twisted. Overheating of the engine caused the explosion.

Wisconsin Senator Outlines His Policy

Williams Grove, Pa., Sept. 1.—Senator Robert LaFollette of Wisconsin attended the Interstate Grangers' picnic here and announced the policies of government of which he is the vigorous champion. He urged the adoption of the initiative and referendum and recall, the latter to include judges, declaring that the present system of government is not representative. As an example of the system of representative government he seeks for the nation, LaFollette pointed to Wisconsin, declaring it to be the one state in the Union where government is entirely by the people.

REVIEWS PROPOSED TREATIES

Makes It Plain to His Auditors That In His Opinion the Objections Made to the Compacts With Great Britain and France Are Invalid—Touches Upon the Issue Between Himself and the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations.

Boston, Sept. 1.—"Arbitration of disputes between nations is coming slowly, but surely coming," said President Taft in his address before the American Bar association, which concluded its thirty-fourth annual convention. The president briefly reviewed the proposed general arbitration treaties with Great Britain and France and made it plain that in his opinion the objections made to the treaties are invalid.

For the most of the time Mr. Taft spoke of the things that the lawyers were personally interested in, salaries and questions of legal procedure, and when he came to the subject of arbitration he apologized for talking on "his hobby." He spread before them his views of the issue between himself and the senate committee on foreign relations, arguing as a point at law against the threat of the senate to strike from the treaties the provision which leaves it to a joint high commission to decide which questions shall be submitted to arbitration.

Said the president: "I am most anxious that that feature of the treaty should be allowed to remain, and I am anxious because I want to make this treaty mean something. You know they say the Indians, when they are sick, don't like any medicines except something that bites, something that is bad to take. I don't think that we shall really get ahead with this arbitration business unless we are willing to assume an obligation to execute a judgment that may bite and may be bad for us to take. If we are going to take the position that we will wait until the question arises and then conclude—because we don't think we can win in the arbitration case—that it is not a justifiable question, then we have written our promises in water, and have made agreements that dissolve under the test of experience. The result will follow which may be anticipated, that instead of promoting the cause of arbitration, we have interfered with it, obstructed it, and made it a laughing stock with all nations."

YOUNG GIRL BRUTALLY ASSAULTED IN CHILLICOTHE

Was Returning From a Visit in This City

HUMAN BRUTES ARE SOUGHT

Affidavits Filed, But Guilty Men Have Not Yet Been Apprehended

While returning to her home at Lucasville, Ohio, after visiting her brother, R. A. Buchanan, 228 Draper street, this city, 15-year-old Daisy Buchanan was criminally assaulted by two young fiends while waiting on a train in Chillicothe, first of the week, and the shocking story has just come to light. The young brutes who committed the crime made their escape, and are still at large.

The whole shocking story is told by the Chillicothe Advertiser, which says:

Raleigh Kuder, a chauffeur, who has been previously arrested twice, is in trouble again. This time he has cheated justice temporarily by flight. While under bond for resisting a police officer while the latter was reprimanding him for making himself obnoxious to passengers at the S. V. T. terminal some time ago, he and a boy named Wilson, are charged by Daisy Buchanan, a 15-year-old girl of Lucasville, O., with having criminally assaulted her near this city on Monday afternoon.

On Monday morning the Buchanan girl, who had been visiting her brother, R. A. Buchanan of Washington C. H., arrived in this city on a C. H. & D. train. At the station she took Kuder's taxicab and directed him to drive her to the N. & W. depot where she intended to take the N. & W. evening train back to her home at Lucasville. Kuder did not leave her at the N. & W., but like a beast watching his prey, began to hang around, trying to engage her in conversation, proposing taxicab rides and the like until the poor girl, worried to weariness by his advances, finally told him that she had to buy some stamps. She said this in order to get rid of him.

Finally Kuder asked her to get into the automobile, telling her he would take her some place where she could buy stamps and the girl unfortunately complied with his request. No sooner in the automobile than Kuder started off at a good rate of speed in a direction that led out across the Bridge street river bridge on to the Marietta road. A boy named Wilson was also in the machine.

The girl seeing that the machine was leaving the city, became alarmed and begged of Kuder to turn back, but he only laughed at her misery and sped on farther out the Marietta road into the "Narrows" or that wild and rough hillside road that skirts the east bank of the Scioto above the city, where the crime is alleged to have been committed.

Returning to this city the girl was let out at the N. & W. in time to catch a train on her homeward journey. In waiting for her train, the girl with forlorn aspect and tear stained face, caught the eye of W. E. Hedrick, a baggage man. He had seen Kuder hanging around the girl earlier in the day and knew it was for no good.

"What's the matter, sister?" said Hedrick to the girl.

At first the girl wanted to conceal her shame.

"Do you know that you were out with a bad actor," said Hedrick. "I know it," replied the girl, bursting into tears, and soon she had told him her whole wretched story, in the presence of another man named Cook.

The girl was advised to go home to Lucasville, tell her mother all and return to the city and prepare charges against her assailants. She promised she would and left on the evening south bound N. & W. train. Hedrick notified Capt. J. F. Young of the B. & O. police headquarters and the Humane Officer, George Hamm was also notified of the matter.

It was kept very quiet and this morning, the girl, accompanied by L. B. Funk, a Lucasville newspaper man arrived in this city to file charges. Affidavits were filed in the Juvenile court against the girl, charging her with being a delinquent child and against Raleigh Kuder and Raymond B. Wilson, charging them with contributing to her delinquency. In the meantime, it was discovered that both Kuder and Wilson had either left the city or gone into hiding somewhere and a search for them was immediately started.

Wilson had told his father it is claimed that he was in trouble and made it appear that the girl was all to the bad. His father has not the slightest idea of his whereabouts.

The girl is the daughter of Henry Buchanan, an old soldier. The date of the hearing has not yet been set.

New Railroad Project Considered by the Pennsy

The Cincinnati Enquirer of Friday morning contains a bit of absolutely unexpected railroad news of much interest in this section. The Enquirer says:

"The Pennsylvania is planning to build a new road between Lore City and Fairview, Ohio, that will parallel a new electric road between these two cities, making a new short line between Cincinnati and Pittsburg and opening up several new Ohio coal fields. Lore City is on the Baltimore and Ohio, and Fairview on the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, near Washington C. H., giving the Pennsylvania a connection over the Cincinnati and Muskingum Valley into Cincinnati.

From Cincinnati this coal will be distributed to various points in the West. It is estimated that the coal traffic from the Ohio mines will aggregate 1,000,000 tons per year. This road will cut down the mileage between Cincinnati and Pittsburg, and it is expected that eventually some of the passenger trains from Pittsburg will be run over it, reducing time to and from the Smoky City.

Surveying crews are now in the field and have the route nearly mapped

Plans Are Laid To Nab Boodlers

All boodlers in Ross county had better beware at the coming election, for the Ross County Election Association, self styled boodler catchers, have been busy and have perfected a thorough organization and will keep a close watch on the polling place of the city and county.

According to some authorities, Ross has been experiencing some very extensive vote buying and selling, and it is the object of the association to put a stop to this and make the election a clean one.

The men at the head of the association declare they will prosecute all offenders without regard to rank, color or age.

DEATH OF DR.

THEODORE DENNIS.

After months of lingering with a fatal illness, Dr. Theodore Dennis, brother of Dr. J. F. Dennis, of this city, passed to rest at two o'clock Friday morning at his home in Jamestown. Only two days ago his wife was buried.

Dr. Dennis was a successful dentist of Jamestown, and a well known man of that community. The funeral will probably be held Sunday, although arrangements are not definitely made.

Dr. J. F. Dennis went over to Jamestown again this afternoon.

STOLEN BICYCLE IS FOUND THIEF MAKES HIS ESCAPE FROM PURSUING OFFICERS

H. R. Rodecker Recovers Wheel Stolen on August 21

THIEF HEADED FOR PIKE COUNTY

And Ran So Fast Officers Were Compelled to Give Up Pursuit.

Mr. H. R. Rodecker has recovered his Rambler bicycle, which was stolen from in front of the Postal Telegraph office in this city during the evening, August 21st, and for the recovery of which, arrest and conviction of thief he offered a reward of $50.

Although he recovered the wheel, Mr. Rodecker did not "recover" the thief, who made his escape, after being pursued for a considerable distance by Chief of Police Devaney, who accompanied Mr. Rodecker in search of the missing bike.

Several days ago, in answer to his announcement that fifty dollars reward would be paid for the arrest and conviction of the thief and recovery of the wheel, Mr. Rodecker was informed that a man working for Mr. Lee Rogers, two miles north of Bloomingburg, had a wheel in his possession that answered the description of the missing wheel.

Mr. Rodecker, accompanied by Chief Devaney, went out to investigate the report Thursday afternoon, and when they stopped at Mr. Rogers' residence and the man, Harold Woods, aged about 21 years, saw them coming, he took to his heels. Chief Devaney gave chase, and the fellow developed a remarkable burst of speed. After crossing a stubblefield and a fifty acre corn field, with the chief in hot pursuit, the fellow was so far ahead and running so fast that he was allowed to continue without further effort at capture.

It was learned that the fellow had traded the bicycle to Campbell, at Cooks Station, and Mr. Rodecker drove to that place and secured possession of the wheel. Legal complications may result over the affair, as Mr. Campbell did not know the bicycle was stolen property.

Wood, who lives at Beaver, Pike county, had been sleeping in the band stand at Rogers' Park, and parts of the wheel which had been removed, were discovered under the floor where he had hidden them. If he is captured, Wood will get the limit for his offense, but, considering the speed he was going when last seen, he has reached his beloved Pike county long ere this, and had best confine his operations in bicycle stealing to that county in the future.

Beattie Case

portant feature, the testimony of the commonwealth's most damaging witness, Paul Beattie, the cousin of the accused.

Against the veracity of Paul Beattie the defense launched several sworn aspersions. Several witnesses who said that they knew Paul declared his reputation for truth-telling was very bad. Even David T. Beattie of Hanover county, who is the grandfather of Paul Beattie and an uncle of the prisoner, was called to the stand for this purpose. The old gentleman answered very unwillingly that he was afraid his grandson Paul's reputation for veracity was very bad.

Ernest Neblett, superintendent of the paper mill in Richmond and a young man of good character, was the witness through whom the defense did most damage to the commonwealth's weight of evidence in incriminating Henry Beattie. The witness said he had no purpose in going to the stand except to see that justice was done.

In the long story that Paul Beattie detailed in the witness chair, detailing the purchase of the shotgun and its alleged delivery by him to Henry Beattie, Paul was very certain of the hour when he had given the gun to the accused. He had bought it on the morning of the Saturday preceding the Tuesday upon which the homicide was committed; had left it wrapped up and with his name on the wrapper in the pawnshop where the purchase had been made, and then shortly after 10 o'clock of that night he had accompanied his cousin, Henry, to the pawnshop in the latter's automobile, and there delivered the shotgun to him. He swore that he had not seen the gun again until it was shown to him at the coroner's inquest four days after Mrs. Beattie had been murdered.

When Neblett took the stand he told of having driven down to the paper mill, where he is employed, on Sunday, July 16, which was the day following the Saturday fixed in Paul Beattie's testimony. He had gone to the mill on a duty concerning his office work. As he drew near the mill he passed a rough storehouse, used for the storing of cement, adjacent to the door of the paper mill.

"Who did you see in the door of that cement house?"

"Paul Beattie," the witness replied.

"And did you notice what he was doing, if anything?"

"Yes; he was just closing the breach of an old-fashioned single-barreled shotgun. He leaned it up against the wall and came out to speak to me. I know him slightly, for he is watchman at Mayo's bridge."

That was all the defense wanted with Neblett. Though Wendenburg for the commonwealth tackled him from every angle, he could not cause the witness to waver a little bit in his story.

Henry Clay Beattie, father of the accused, was among the witnesses examined. He stated that the marriage of his son to Louise Owen was a great satisfaction to him because of his solicitude for the happiness of his son, and that after the son's wife came to live at his house he became as fond of her as if she were his own daughter.

Auto Strikes Boy And Pony Thursday

An automobile owned by Mr. Frank Myers, of near Good Hope, was on the way to the Ohio State Fair Friday, and when near the residence of Mrs. Arizona Holdren, north of Good Hope, the machine struck one of the small children of Mrs. Holdren, who was riding a pony.

The pony was badly crippled, it is said, while the lad was uninjured, except a few bruises. Just how the accident occurred has not been learned, other than that the pony stumbled, or wheeled about in the road as the machine approached.

Tonight and tomorrow night splendid performances will be given, and a matinee will be held Saturday afternoon. Next Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights the performances booked will be of a nature sure to please all. Only vaudeville of a class which cannot offend the most refined, will be tolerated. IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

Invitations have been sent out for the marriage of Mr. Charles McCoy and Miss Ruth McDowell, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McDowell, in Bloomingburg, next Tuesday at high noon.

The "Sour Pickle" girls, a jolly crowd that makes the name a misnomer, were indebted to Miss Jane Paul for a most attractive entertainment Thursday afternoon.

The Paul home was tastefully decorated with golden glow, marigold and sprays of green, and a delicious collation was served.

The girls enjoyed an old-fashioned Virginia Reel and an "anatomy contest" in which Miss Carrie Willis won a box of Lowneys.

Assisting in the afternoon's hospitalities were the young hostess sisters, Mrs. Elliott and Miss Grace Paul. Miss Audry Bryant, of New Holland, was an out-of-town guest.

Big Melons From Jones' Wabash Farm

Melons—great big fellows with a look and a flavor that just tempts the price—which is unusually low this year because of the abundance of this delicacy—from the pockets of every one who loves melons, and that includes the entire human family. The melons in question this time come from the famous patch of Attorney Humphrey Jones, in Indiana—"On the Wabash", and many of them will tip the scales at fifty pounds, and are nearly 30 inches in length.

The first car of the Jones melons arrived in this city Friday, and are now being delivered to the retail dealers of the city. Next week another car will arrive.

The beauty and flavor of the melons is causing a big demand for them, and a car containing several hundred of the big green fellows, lasts only a few days.

Pathfinder Car, Halladay, Stopped in This City Today

FIFTY AUTOS IN THE CONTEST

Visitors Will Eat Dinner Here Thence on to Columbus.

Friday the pathfinding car for the Chicago Motor Club Five States Reliability Contest arrived in the city after making the run from Dayton which place they left in the morning. The car is in charge of J. P. Dods of The Automobile Blue Book Publishing Co., and is driven by George Daubner. The Halladay car has only recently returned from Helena where it acted as confetti car in the Minnesota State Contest.

This will be the fifth annual reliability run under the auspices of the Chicago Motor Club which has promoted so successfully many contests in the last six years and under whose auspices the Elgin road races were first made possible.

This year when the question of route for the reliability came up for discussion it was suggested that the trip be planned so as to take in as far as possible either stone or gravel roads and at the same time a territory that would be productive one in the matter of sales for next year. With this idea in view, Mr. Dods, who has accurate knowledge of the territory through his work with the Blue Book, laid out a prospective trip to take in most of the larger cities in Indiana, western Ohio, Northern Kentucky and southern Michigan. The pathfinding car is now engaged in covering the route in order not only to take the route data and make any changes in the route which seemed advisable, but to arrange for hotel and garage accommodations at noon and night controls.

It is only recently that the American Automobile Association decided that for this year at least the Ghidren Tour would be given up as a manufacturers' contest and is open only to private owners of cars, being arranged more as a sociability tour than a real contest. The past has clearly shown that a reliability contest taking in a fruitful territory will receive ample support from the manufacturers who are only too anxious for the opportunity of showing what their respective cars can do. This is especially true when the route covers a territory where they can feel assured that thousands of interested prospects will view the results from day to day. It seems safe to say that this year the route covering a total of over 1,400 miles lies through the most productive territory ever covered by any contest in recent years.

On the morning of October 6th the contesting cars will leave Chicago going to Lafayette for the noon control, then to Indianapolis for the night stop, making 213 miles.

Second day the run will be to Terre Haute then to Vincennes and straight east to French Lick, where a stop will be made until Sunday noon, leaving in time to make Louisville before dark on Sunday, where a stop will be made until Monday morning.

On the fourth day the run will be to Cincinnati by way of Frankfort and Lexington, a distance of 165 miles.

The fifth day the run will in the morning be from Cincinnati through Dayton, Washington Court House and then straight through Chillicothe to Columbus.

The sixth day's run will be to Detroit probably by way of Marion, Fostoria and Toledo.

The seventh day's run to Grand Rapids is laid out to go by way of Pontiac, Flint and Lansing, but some change may be made for this day's run before the contest is started.

The eighth and last day's run from Grand Rapids will be into Chicago by way of Kalamazoo and South Bend.

THE WORLD'S GRANERY.

Last year the United States produced 75 per cent. of the corn of the world, 33 per cent. of the oats and 20 per cent. of the wheat, and it was done upon 6 per cent. of the land.

The average annual production of cereals in this country is about five thousand million bushels. These figures are so stupendous that the average mind cannot comprehend them.

And yet of all the corn grown in this country, and there were 3,126,000,000 bushels of it, only about 2 per cent. was exported.

This shows the wonderful consumptive power of the people of the United States. No nation in the history of the world has had such a record.

The prosperity of a country and its standard of civilization are determined by its ability to consume the products of its soil. This is shown by a comparison between the peoples of India and the United States, as the former with its nearly 300,000,000 people exports 14.1 per cent. of its 360,000,000 bushels of wheat which is only about half of the production in this country.

The other wheat growing sections of the world which are backward in the scale of material progress show about the same record as India.

The men who handle these immense cereal crops of the United States are to meet in Omaha Oct. 9, 10 and 11 next, when the annual convention of the Grain Dealers' National Association is to be held.

At this convention every phase of the cereal business will be discussed. How to increase the yields of the American farms by the scientific breeding of grain; how to add to the supply of the country by irrigation, dry farming and deep ploughing—all these methods will be considered.

Our population is rapidly overtaking our production, and it was this fact that recently induced the Washington government to negotiate a commercial treaty with Canada.

The Grain Dealers' National Association is composed of practically all the prominent elevator owners, brokers and commission men in the country. They are interested in the farmers because without the growers of grain there would be no grain to handle.

HEALTH CAMPAIGN IN THE SOUTH.

Ten thousand patients suffering from hookworm disease were treated in 107 days by one of the representatives of the Alabama State Board of Health with the help of three assistants, this work covering five counties of Alabama, says The Journal of the American Medical Association. In addition to treating the victims of the hookworm, the representatives of the state board of health are visiting the physicians, the school teachers and the schools, lecturing to public meetings, showing streopticon views to demonstrate the cause and progress of the disease and the results of treatment, and using the country newspapers as a means of publicity for their work. The value of the Panama Canal as an object lesson in modern sanitation has been frequently emphasized. The work now being done in the southern states for the elimination of hookworm disease will be an even greater demonstration of the economic value of modern medical science, when practically applied. The results of restoring to health ten thousand men and women cannot fail to be apparent in all branches of industry, commerce and society in the affected region. The extermination of the hookworm means a new South of commercial manufacturing importance hitherto undreamed of. Health is wealth; sickness is waste, and no nation or section can prosper when the vitality of its people is being wasted.

Athletics Interfere With College Studies

By JOHN D. MERRILL

facts are and make its recommendations accordingly.

Forms of sport which take the most time are not necessarily the most objectionable. The Harvard crew, for instance, has a much longer season than the football eleven; the crew practices regularly every afternoon on the Charles for months and then goes to New London, where it remains for two weeks or so during the period of the final examinations. Special examinations are held in New London for the benefit of the members of the crew and by arrangement with the faculty.

I have never heard any adverse criticism of this custom. The baseball nine plays every year twice or three times as many games as the football eleven; there has never been much serious complaint about the nine. Football is apparently the chief cause of the trouble in connection with intercollegiate athletics, if there is any trouble.

It might be well for the authorities of the different colleges to consider whether the particular form of athletics indulged in is not more important than the number of intercollegiate contests played in any year.

Must Squeeze Customer's Hand

Declares No Self-Respecting Woman Can Follow the Profession.

"YOU MUST SQUEEZE the customer's hands."

"You must smile at them."

"You must 'jolly' them."

These are the orders which Miss Elfa Wood, a pretty young English woman, out of her position as manicurist in one of the big barber shops told a reporter.

Miss Wood, who was indignant and seemed to be telling the unvarnished truth, declared that "it was almost impossible for a pretty young woman to be a manicurist and retain her self-respect and even her good name."

"I have been a manicurist for a little more than six months," she said, "and I am giving up the work with no feeling of regret, although I made a good living. The money that I could make did not compensate me for the insults to which I was daily subjected."

"Of course," explained Miss Wood, who came to this country from England just nine months ago, "you might say that my experience as a manicurist has been too short for me to speak with authority. Let me tell you, that there are hundreds of manicurists, who, had they the courage, would give up their work for a place behind a counter or some other position where they could maintain their self-respect. Was a Ladies' Maid."

"True, all manicurists are not alike. Many of them are good, self-respecting women and girls, working to earn their living, and many would have maintained their self-respect had they the power to withhold from the tempting offers made them by men."

Automobile rides at night, diamonds, money, dresses, fashionable apartments with servants, in fact, anything she could name, were some of the offers made to Miss Wood.

Miss Wood, previous to coming to this country was maid to a wealthy woman in London. She is an orphan and exceptionally well educated.

"I tired of London, although I wish at times I were back there again," said the former manicurist, "and against the advice of my friends and the wishes of my brothers came to this country. At first I intended to secure a position as ladies' maid, and

THE NEW RACE.

(Scientists have found a new race in the Arctic that has never seen the face of a white man.)

They've found a race in the Northern wild
Where the Arctic light gleams down,

That never saw great buildings piled
In the junk heap men call town—
That never smelt a cheap cigar

And never a cigarette—
That never dodged a joy-ride car,
Nor a brick from a suffragette.

They've found a race 'mid the endless snow,

That never has felt the bite
Of the germ that leads proud men to go

On his yearly outing hike;
That never has heard of cheap hotels,

And of cheaper beds and fare,
Nor summer porches and their belles

What happiness is its share.

They have found a people that's never heard
Of the "heart-breaking pennant race"—

That has never called Ty Cobb a "bird."

As it gazed on his pictured face;
They have found a race that doesn't care

If the Cubs win the pennant prize;
Oh ship me a ticket to that land,

fair,
Ere the bunch has been civilized!

—Denver Republican.

did act in that capacity for a time. Then a girl acquaintance of mine told me what a fine opportunity there was for a manicurist, how easily the money was earned and of the short hours. It didn't take me long to make up my mind to be a manicurist. It didn't take me long, after becoming one, to find out that I was better off as ladies' maid.

"I hadn't been in my place very long when I began to receive the attention of practically every man who came into the place. One wanted to take me out to dinner, another wanted me to go automobile, others asked that I accompany them to the opera and then to dinner, while others wished to buy me jewelry, and one even went so far as to make an appointment with me when he declared that I would have the privilege of picking out a ring, size or price not to be taken into consideration."

"A man came into the shop one day and, while I was fixing his nails, asked me if I would care to accompany him on an auto ride. I declined, whereupon he became exceedingly angry. Later he cooled down a bit, and placing a large pile of money on the table said that it would be mine if I would promise to accept his invitation."

Miss Wood said that she went to work only a short time ago. The very first day, she said, she had an invitation to dinner, another to the opera and a half dozen for automobile rides and trips.

"Only a few weeks ago a man, whom I knew to be married and the father of several children, came to my table and begged that I accept an invitation to dine with him that night. Later, he said, we were to take an automobile ride. I refused to listen to him. On the way out the man stopped to talk with the proprietor. The proprietor, with whom I shared half that I made, told me that I would have to quit. I asked him what he meant, and he replied:

"You don't know how to hold a man's hand. You're like the rest of your kind (meaning manicures)—none of you are any good."

Miss Wood resented the charge of the proprietor and as a result lost her place.

"On another occasion," Miss Wood continued, "a man, who had had me fix his nails several times, came in one day and, while I was at work, said that he thought I ought to wear a diamond ring. I told him that I didn't have money enough to buy one. If I would consent to meet him, he told me, he would get me one. The next day he came into the shop again, and began abusing me. The proprietor, to whom I appealed, turned away. He didn't want to lose a good customer."

"While he was abusing me his wife, with two children, came to the door. The man looked as if he was going to faint. I walked away. He never bothered me again."

"Surely the lot of a manicurist is a hard one," Miss Wood said, "and one that I would advise all girls to shun. The trials and tribulations I experienced during my few months as a manicurist would fill a book. As I said, a girl cannot be a manicurist and retain her self-respect. Some few succeed, but for every one that does there are scores who fail."

Q.—Polygamy is looked upon as a great crime, and there is a considerable amount of agitation against it, while special opposition has been gendered against the Mormons because of their teachings in relationship to this subject. Why is it considered such a heinous offense in our day, when it was not so regarded in Old Testament times?

Answer.—Since this question is not answered by the inspired writers of the Bible, it behooves us to be very cautious in attempting to answer it. Why God did not specially reprehend polygamy in Old Testament times, we do not know. We know, however, that he started the race otherwise with Adam, who had only one wife. We also know through the inspired Apostle that it is the will of God that a man should have no more than one wife. We know that the Apostle in pointing out such of the brethren as would be suitable to be looked upon in the Church as elders—who are advisers in the Church—declares that they should be the husband of one wife only. It is sufficient to know the will of God concerning ourselves. In due time doubtless we shall understand why those of the past who had more than one wife escaped special Divine reprehension on this account.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Consult Your System.

The human system knows what it wants, and it speaks about its needs as plainly as it can. Thus if we remember that the proper proportions that go to make a well balanced diet are 79 per cent of nitrogenous foods and 21 per cent of acid combining foods we have one of the most important secrets of health within our grasp. All that is required is a little practice to make the system very simple. Study the composition of the various foods—information that may be found in any good food book—and then make out your own table, selecting such viands as you may prefer, always keeping the fact in mind that the proper ratio is 79 to 21.

A rail spread while the train was making a curve at an approximate rate of 40 miles an hour. The engine, the baggage car and the first two passenger cars were thrown down a 15-foot embankment, the rest of the cars being overturned. The injured are mostly from Hartford, and were removed to hospitals at Middletown, where it was said two may die. Railroad men declare the wreck to have been the work of train wreckers.

THE HUSTLING WORKERS BOOSTING THE VOTE A BIG INDUCEMENT

Was Special Vote Offer---Candidates Making Great Efforts

Toward Securing Splendid Prizes. Subscriptions Should be Turned in Before the Offer Closes.

It is conceded by those who have made a close study of newspaper circulation that no time is so well suited for getting subscriptions as the present. Everyone is busy and they are all anxious to keep in touch with happenings in the community and the world at large. The Herald and Register are beyond question the most up-to-date and newsy papers in Fayette county and it is not a difficult matter to secure subscriptions.

Many people are just beginning to realize what the contest means. A glance at the prizes gives full proof that they are well worth a few weeks of systematic hustling.

Only Government Stamps Allowed On Envelopes

Serious inconvenience in handling the mails from particular localities is being experienced by the postal authorities on account of general use of adhesive stamps other than United States postage stamps. In view of the trouble experienced from the use of the Red Cross stamps during the last Christmas holiday period, Postmaster General Hitchcock issued a general order that no adhesive stamp except United States postage should be attached to the address side of a letter or package.

Thousands of letters bearing stamps on the obverse side of the envelope are being received at the dead letter office. It was decided by Postmaster General Hitchcock and Third Assistant Britt that no stamps resembling United States postage stamps may be used on either the obverse or reverse side of mailed envelopes. This order will eliminate from the mails absolutely all the Red Cross stamps, all exposition stamps and the McNamara defense fund stamps.

The Lucky Farmer Boys Have Much Work at Fair

A GREAT ADVANTAGE TO WORKING MEN.

J. A. Maple, 125 S. 7th St., Steubenville, O., says:

"For years I suffered from weak kidneys and a severe bladder trouble. I learned of Foley Kidney Pills and their wonderful cures so I began taking them and sure enough I had as good results as any I heard about. My backache left me and to one of my business, expressman, that alone is a great advantage. My kidneys acted free and normal, and that saved me a lot of misery. It is now a pleasure to work where it used to be a misery. Foley Kidney Pills have cured me and have my highest praise." Blackmer & Tanquary.

The Soda Fountain Has Done Much Toward Helping the Temperance Cause

Within the last few years there has been hundreds of thousands of Soda Fountains built and put into service throughout the United States. During the same number of years there has been thousands and millions of people drinking these pure fruit juice beverages. Every year there are many more who join this happy and healthful band of Soda drinkers to quench their thirst, satisfy their appetites and relieve their hunger. Thousands who once drank Beer and Whisky and other intoxicants, now drink the unfermented fruit juice beverages, because they find there is no harm in them.

Thousands of towns and cities have driven the Saloon from their midst, but never has any prosperous city or town prohibited the sale of SODA WATER.

The Cozy Corner HAS A PERFECTLY SANITARY SODA FOUNTAIN AND SERVES ALL THE POPULAR PURE AND UNFERMENTED FRUIT JUICE SODAS. OUR SERVICE IS UNEXCELLED—OUR PARLOR IS CLEAN, NICELY FURNISHED, WELL VENTILATED AND PROPERLY KEPT.

Then patronize the Soda Fountain—lend your influence to the Fountain Man and thus help build up and honest and harmless industry—one that will eventually stamp out the old booze habit and leave the country all drinking Pure Unfermented Fruit Juice Sodas.

The Gray Wolves

DRAMA

An exciting drama of the wheat pit, one scene of which shows a single man, unarmed, fighting a pack of wolves. One of the most thrilling combats ever staged in motion pictures.

On the same reel "SANTA CRUZ BEACH AND CLIFF DRIVE." Educational and scenic film of great beauty.

VITAGRAPH

The Quaker Mother

DRAMA

This play is very truly a life portrayal. The Quaker mother's married daughter is about to elope with another man, but is saved by this dear old lady, who tells her that her little child is very sick and in sore need of her. The situations are made to tell strongly by remarkable acting all around, and the play is worthy of high praise. Decidedly worth seeing.

$600 Schaff Bro. Player Piano

First Grand Prize 2nd Grand Prize

$600 Schaff Bros. Player Piano

This beautiful Player Piano will be given to the person having the largest number of votes in the Register-Herald's Great Voting Contest, and was bought of J. A. Smalley, who will shortly have the instrument on exhibition at his store-room on West Court St., next door to the T. C. DeWeese photo gallery, also in Exhibition hall at the County Fair next week.

This player piano carries with it an unlimited warranty and is the most simply constructed player on the market, one lever acting for the tempo, start, stop and rewind, making it possible for a child to operate it and play any style of music, from ragtime to the most classical.

The tone of this instrument, its volume of sound and artistic workmanship have earned for it the distinction of being one of the finest player pianos ever brought into Fayette county. Call at Smalley's store on West Court street and examine this prize.

$265 Link & Son Piano

This piano, also made by the Schaff Bros., of Chicago, Ill., and Huntington, Ind., has no equal on the market for the price. The people making this piano have been located in Chicago since the year 1868, since which time their financial rating has been unsurpassed by any of their competitors. They were the first firm to make upright pianos in Chicago after the great fire of 1872, and a steady improvement has marked the quality of their product ever since.

This piano was purchased from J. A. Smalley and is on exhibition at the store-room next to the DeWeese photograph gallery. The many excellent features of this instrument, combining a double veneered maple-lined mahogany case, light, perfectly balanced and sympathetic action and soft mellow tone make it one that anyone who is a lover of music would be proud to own.
